ABSTRACT

This guide is a catalog of materials currently available for English as a second language (ESL) instruction at the elementary, secondary, and adult levels. It is intended for educators who are attempting to meet the needs of immigrants, refugees, and non-English-speaking U.S. natives of all language backgrounds. Over 460 entries are included, ranging from textbooks for basic courses to a wide variety of supplementary and audiovisual materials. Each entry lists the following information: title, author/editor, publisher and address, year of publication, proficiency level, type of material, skill development area emphasized, target grade level, and a broad category designation. INTRODUCTION

Guide to Materials for English as a Second Language is a catalog of materials currently available for English as a second language (ESL) instruction at the elementary, secondary, and adult levels. ESL is an integral component of bilingual education programs, and receives an increasing amount of attention in adult education programs. The National Clearinghouse for Bilingual Education (NCBE) has compiled this catalog in response to the rising frequency of requests for ESL materials. This guide is intended for educators attempting to meet the needs of immigrants, refugees, and non-English-speaking U.S. natives of all language backgrounds.

The present catalog differs from NCBE's previous listing of ESL materials, which was published in three volumes in 1978. First, the new catalog combines materials for all age levels in a single volume. This approach provides access, without duplication, to titles that are useful for more than one level. Second, annotations have been eliminated in favor of more comprehensive coverage, permitting a threefold increase in the number of titles listed.

Included in the catalog are over 460 entries, ranging from textbooks for basic courses to a wide variety of supplementary and audiovisual materials. Each entry lists the following information: title, author/editor, publisher and address, year of publication, proficiency level, type of material, skill development area emphasized, target grade level, and a broad category designation.

The entries are arranged in order of accession number (preceded by ES). On pages ix through xx, there is an alphabetical list of titles included in this volume. On pages 191 through 215, five indexes provide access to the materials by author/editor, category, publisher, skill development, and type of material. The last two indexes are arranged by grade level (K-6, 7-12, and Adult Education). The list of titles and the indexes refer the reader to the appropriate accession number.

Many of the materials included in this volume are series comprising more than one proficiency level (e.g., beginning through advanced), grade level (e.g., secondary through adult), or type of component (e.g., workbooks or cassettes in addition to a basic text). In such cases, a single entry is made under the main title, and other levels or components are indicated in the appropriate section of the entry.

The information that appears in this publication reflects machine-searchable records in NCBE's computerized database. Periodic supplements to this listing will be generated as database records and updated with new publication information.

For more information on any specific ESL materials, please contact the publisher listed, not the Clearinghouse.

The Clearinghouse gratefully acknowledges the efforts of all those who collaborated on this project. Readers are invited to submit additions and suggestions for future editions of this publication.

One of the activities of the National Clearinghouse for Bilingual Education is to publish documents addressing the specific information needs of the bilingual education community. Subsequent Clearinghouse products will similarly seek to contribute information and knowledge that can assist in the education of minority culture and language groups in the United States.
